

Digi-Key and SkyeTek Sign Distribution Agreement

Westminster, Colorado and Thief River Falls, Minnesota – December 6, 2007

“As demand for our products continues to grow, the addition of Digi-Key further extends our distribution partner network,” said Rob Balgley, CEO of SkyeTek. “Through this strategic partnership, we are now able to leverage Digi-Key’s expansive customer presence and online marketplace in order to reach new design engineers who are looking to deploy embedded RFID solutions in new, innovative applications.”

Digi-Key Corporation is one of the fastest growing electronic component distributors in the world. Digi-Key will offer SkyeTek customers its superior customer service for both engineering and production needs, including product availability, same-day shipping and on-time delivery. Digi-Key will stock SkyeTek’s full line of UHF and HF RFID reader modules and development kits, providing all of the hardware and software engineers need to start integrating RFID into their design projects.

“Our strong reputation and track record for performance coupled with SkyeTek’s expertise and market-leading reader technology will help drive further adoption of embedded RFID,” said Mark Larson, president and COO of Digi-Key. “Our ability to be a full-service provider and handle both prototype/design and production volume quantities ensure that customers of SkyeTek’s reader technology will have what they want when they want it.”

SkyeTek’s full line of RFID reader modules and developer kits are now available for same-day shipping to North American customers through Digi-Key at Digikey.com.
