SkyeTek and GAO RFID Sign Reseller Agreement

GAO RFID will Resell SkyeTek's Full Line of RFID Reader Modules and Developer Kits

Westminster, Colo., December 17, 2007 – SkyeTek, Inc., the leading provider of embedded RFID reader technology, continues to expand its reseller network with the announcement today of an agreement with GAO RFID Inc. GAO RFID will resell SkyeTek's full line of RFID reader modules and products in North America.

This partnership will enable SkyeTek to leverage GAO's experience in providing complete RFID solutions and integration services to many different industry verticals across North America, particularly in the Canadian market where GAO has a historically strong presence. By partnering with SkyeTek, GAO will increase its already strong line of RFID solutions while also adding new product offerings designed for the embedded market.

"SkyeTek continues to expand its presence in new markets and industries," said Chris Turner EVP of Sales and Business Development for SkyeTek. "We look forward to leveraging GAO RFID's strong presence in Canada as we expand in North America in an effort to drive increased adoption of RFID as an embedded product feature and true network technology."

GAO RFID has developed cutting edge RFID solutions for a wide range of verticals including healthcare, manufacturing, transportation, supply chain and logistics. The company is a global provider of one of the most comprehensive lines of RFID readers, RFID tags, and RFID antennas. Furthermore, GAO RFID offers integration services in order to deliver a complete and seamless solution to its customers.

"SkyeTek has developed innovative and cost effective RFID solutions that enable the pervasive adoption of RFID not just in traditional supply chain applications, but across a wide range of industries," said Edmund Rucels, VP of Sales and Marketing GAO RFID. "As demand for intelligent RFID continues to increase, we will be able to offer customers more comprehensive RFID solutions through our partnership with SkyeTek."

SkyeTek's full line of RFID reader modules and developer kits are now available for same day shipping through GAO RFID at: <http://www.gaorfid.com/skyetek>
